Dear Dan:

The third cancellation of data reduction racks results in a cancellation of all L's, one G, one H, one J, two K's and two N's. I wanted to repeat this information since there have been three or four changes to the third cancellation, and I want to be sure that we understand it correctly.

I also wanted to mention the following for your general information. Number 6 K rack, the first of the two canceled racks, is completed and available for shipment as reported in our telephone conversation of March 24, 1958, and all N racks ordered by Requirement 1 (two prototypes and one production model, Serial No. 3) have already been shipped to Bob W. The two canceled N racks must therefore come from the five which are ordered by Requirement 3. If we understand Requirement 3's operational requirements, this would not provide him with sufficient N racks for use with his M's. Unless we hear from you to the contrary, however, we will assume that the canceled rack quantities are those mentioned in the first paragraph.

Sincerely,

Sid
